Author's Preface

This book has been prepared in accordance with the decisions of the Synod of the Protestant Reformed Churches in 1955-60. Its purpose is to provide a basis for catechetical instruction for children of nine and ten years old.

The twenty- five lessons of this book are based on the New Testament, and aim to emphasise the facts and chronology of Scripture. With a review following each five lessons, the book will serve a thirty week catechism season.

This book is a companion book to the Old Testament History in Brief, prepared by Prof H C Hoeksema, and it should be followed by the Old and New Testament Books for Seniors.

A workbook has also been prepared to accompany this book.

The author gratefully acknowledges the help of the Catechism Book Committee and the Catechism Reviewing Committee in the preparation of this book for use in the Churches.

May our covenant God use this book for the spiritual instruction and edification of the seed of His covenant.

Editor's Preface

The use of the Catechism for the instruction of the young in the Church is an ancient and time-tested method. The present series of booklets is designed to give a firm grounding on Bible facts and history, which will eventually serve as a foundation for the Doctrinal Catechisms such as the Westminster Shorter Catechism which is adopted for use in Pilgrim Covenant Church. We have edited out some errors from the original version, as well as streamlined some of the answers so as to better fit the way the questions are asked.

If you (as parents) have been faithfully using this series of catechism from the beginning you will find that by now your child will be able to read the Catechism by himself, and will also be able to memorise the answers with much less effort as compared to when he first started on the series. This surely is due not only to maturing mental capability, but also to training. You will, as such, find training your child to recite the Catechism a much more pleasant experience than before.

But care must be taken that the exercise of catechising does not become a mere once-a-week, learn-and-regurgitate routine. Rather, it should be done prayerfully, with the belief and hope that the form of doctrine and Biblical facts, enlodged in the hearts of our children, will one day (or even now) blossom and bear fruit for the glory of Christ. Let the mother, therefore, encourage the young scholar in the process of memorisation by not being cross and impatient when he gets it wrong for the umpteenth time. And let the father ensure that the child understands the truths that are memorised, and how they are relevant to his own soul, by leading him to Christ through explication of the facts memorised.

May the Lord bless our feeble efforts to instruct our children in the way of the Lord.
